IT SORTING PROCESS

Instructions for data Destructions

When an agency submits a CPU to our Surplus Property Division, please follow the mandatory steps below:

1) The SPD receiving official will inventory and document each CPU according to the serial number listed on the Property Disposal Action (PDA). The PDA is to be completed by the submitting Agency. If the item is not itemized, the receiving official must manually record the item to the PDA and notify the submitting agency of the omission. If the PDA is accurate, the SPD receiving official will stamp the PDA as received, forward a copy to the submitting agency and submit the original to the SPD Administrative Staff to be saved on the shared network. Tag all received items with PDA or an identifying record of origin, sort received surplus.

2) ALL CPUS must be labeled with a copy of the original PDA or an identifying record of origin and placed in the designated testing area of the warehouse.

3) The designated testing official will perform the task of inspecting each CPU for a hard drive, removing the hard drive and performing a functionality test to determine the operational status.

4) To TEST CPU: Plug the CPU into the power supply and to a monitor to test. Power on the CPU, if the CPU reboots successfully, it’s considered to be of working status. A CPU is only considered non-working if it doesn’t power on when tested.

5) While testing, the official will scan each item into inventory according to operational status and batch for auction.

6) If a hard drive is found, the designated testing official is responsible for removing the hard drive and must complete a “Certificate of Data Destruction”, (see attached form). After completing the “Certificate of Data Destruction”, each hard drive must be escorted to the Data Destruction Center, for proper destruction.

7) If the hard drives are not destroyed on the same day, the designated testing official must secure all hard drives in the Data Destruction Center until the next business day. Under no circumstance, should any hard drives be left unsecured. The Data Destruction Center will be secured at the end of each business day.

8) Once the hard drives have been destroyed, the designated testing official must sign, stamp and date the “Certificate of Data Destruction”. DO NOT sign/stamp/date this form until all hard drives listed have been destroyed.

9) Scan and email a copy of the “Certificate of Data Destruction” to the submitting Agency’s Accountable Property Officer (APO) and Approving Official.

10) The original “Certificate of Data Destruction” must be submitted to the SPD Administrative Staff, who will save the certified destruction document to the shared network.
